Notes on the Political Situation - The Candidates.

HAILROAD AND COURT NOTES.

The Omaha & Northern Road to Be Built-Doings in Police Court-Rifle Practice at Bellvue Closed.

The Political Fight.

What promises to be one of the most exciting political battles ever fought in Nebraska will be waged at the polls today. In addition to the regular state ticket, there are several county offices to be filled, and in the matter of selecting men for these places no little interest is manifested. Representatives for the legislature which is to determine the election of a United States senator are to be chosen; a county is to be elected; a representative for the board of county commissioner is to be selected-to say nothing of other and minor officers. The election of the republican county ticket is practically conceded by all who are posted on the situation. To be sure there will be some cutting in directions, but this, it is believed, will not affect the grand result. Simeral, the candidate for county attorney is making a splendid fight, and his friends are confident that he will carry the county by a good rousing majority. Pierce, the candidate for a place on the county board, is also believed to be sure of election despite the fact that the friends of Mount, the democratic candidate, are confidently clamoring to the contrary. The demoralization of the democratic legislative ticket caused by the withdrawal of its strongest men, has practically barred it from all possibility of election.

The selection of a successor to Congressman Weaver, is one of the most important matters to be decided to any. A vast deal of public interest is felt in the matter. It does not require a great deal of acumen to discover the fact that the feeling against Church Howe has been growing stronger and stronger, almost from the first hour of his nomination. The prospects are that his democratic opponent, McShane, will go out of the county with a majority even larger than that secured by Brown two years

The polls will be open at eight o'clock this morning and will close at six. This is a curtailment of the usual voting hours, which have been heretofore from seven a. m. to seven p. m. See to it that you vote early, if not often. Otherwise you will be compelled to drop into a long line of voters, and cast your ballot only after a quarter or a half hour's unnecessary delay.

The folk wing is a list of the polling

WHAT MR. SHIVES SAYS. The following communication from "one who knows" will be read with interest by a great many people, who want addi-tional light on Church Howe's record: At a meeting at Plattsmouth, October 30, Church Howe, in endeavoring to explain his rebate stealings from the shippers at Auburn, stated that the ex-agent and maker of the affidavit was dis-charged for dishonesty, and that Rose-water paid for the affidavit. I want to say that the amdavit, every was a free which the records will prove, was a free that the affidavit, every word of offering in the cause of good government. The following is a letter to L. A. Emer-son, general western freight agent, Atchon, written by me: "DEAR SIR.—The Hon. Church Howe threatens to have me dismissed for exposing his thieving transactions in con-nection with Hastie's shipments. I hope you will see that I have a fair show. I should dislike to lose my position and have to charge it to the efforts of a thief of Howe's stamp. (Signed)

"G. L. Shives, Agent."

The following was his reply:

"G. L. Shives, Agent, Auburn. Dear
Sir:—In reply to yours I will say you need give yourself no uneasiness about having you dismissed. work has given good satisfaction and you acted exactly right in exposing this work of Howe's. Have Hastie bring his books and come to Atchison. I want to see him. (Signed) L. A. Emerson, General Western Freight Agent.

Howe did all he could to have the agent discharged because he had deprived him of his revenue of $5 per car. In this particular case, the agent did not suit his purposes. Howe failed, as I was with the company two years after, being transferred from Auburn, the last year and a half as secretary to the general agent of the Missouri Pacific railway in agent of the Missouri Pacific railway in this city, as my friends well know. This rebate steal. Howe states, was a legitimate transaction. Certain it is on a footing with the skin lottery manipulated by Howe and a party named Curzon. If I remember right the people of North Auburn will remember this no blank lottery with a good deal of regret. In selling tickets the inducement was held out that every ticket drew a prize, also that the Hou. Church Howe would have charge of the distribution of prizes. Sure enough, on the date of drawing Howe would be on hand elevating himself on a chair. He would give the crowd of expectant ticket holders a little telk saying that the grand distribution. little telk saying that the grand distribu-tion of prizes would take place, and in-vite them to present their tickets, they receiving in return for their dollar such articles as brass car and inger rings, cuif buttons, pearl collar buttons, lead pencils,

THE EVE OF A GREAT BATTLE | ing the distribution Howe would talk to them that pearl cuff buttons and such articles were staple as the necessaries of life and worth at least two dollars and a half. It was generally believed that Howe was the silent partner in the jew-elry business with Curzon. It was a notorious fact that he was very notorious fact that he was very active when it came to distributing the prizes and dividing up the 95 per cent gain. The no blank lottery fell by the wayside, the people soon realizing that they were being robbed of their hard earned dollars. This is a fair sample of Howe's legitimate means of securing boodle. Nice man this Howe to want a seat in congress from the First Nebraska district. If he was where he properly belongs instead of traveling over the district and erying aloud to the people, I am an honest man and worthy of your confidence, he would be in the immediate confines of Nobesville, giving a six pound hammer exercise on a rock G. L. SHIVES, Ex-Agent, Auburn."

John Hanan, of Wymore, Neb., is res ponsible for the following neat piece of poetry:

CHURCH HOWE'S TRICKS HIAWATHAIZED. They will not vote for Church, They will not vote for Howe, They will not vote for Church They will leave him in the lurch By franchise gad of birch, The granger swindler Church, The lobby ist Church Howe.

Both every honest farmer, Every honest toller, produce-maker, Will whack the great bribe-taker,

Now-now-now

They will not vote for Church,
They will not vote for Howe,
Howe did the farmer rob,
With rebates filled his fob,
E'er did Gould's dirty job.
Oh! that's the style of Church
That's the character of Howe. That's the character of Howe.

The man that owns the reaper, The man that runs the sleeper, Every decent saloon keeper, Will not vote for Church, Will not vote for Howe, Now-now-now.

They will not vote for Church, They will not vote for Howe, For "Stout" Howe had his price, He gambled gamblers nice, the brewers Church robbed thrice, Oh! that's the style of Church, That's the character of Howe.

The man that whirls the spade,
The man that whirls the spade,
Knows what "Boss Stout" has pold,
Will on Howe's ticket—raid,
And will not vote for Church,
They wil! not vote for Howe, Now-now-now. NOTES.

Vote early. The contest to-day is bound to be a Church Howe will retire to private life after to day.

John A. McShane's friends will send him out of Douglas county with a splendid majority.

As is usual on all such occasions a large number of bets are being made on to-day's (election. The wagers are for the most part on the election of Church Howe to congress, size of majorities, etc. Little or no money has been bet by democrats on the election of their county ticket, except in the case of one or two candidates.

In voting on the constitutional amendment see that you scratch out either one of the words "For" or "Against," both of which will be printed on the ticket. Otherwise your ballot will be blank on this important point.

Coming !- Save Your Money. Take a pair of scissors, cut this out, read and keep it until Friday, November 5, at 2 o'clock. The immense four-story building, No. 1118 Farnam street, Omaha Neb., has been hired for six days for the purpose of disposing of three enormous consolidated bankrupt stocks of fine tailor-made winter clothing; also the stock of a wnoiesale hat and furnishing goods house. This immense stock, from three wholesale houses that failed in New York city, has been consolidated for one grand sale. The store is now closed to arrange for this gi-gantic bankrupt sale. The store will be opened on Friday, November 5, at 2 o'clock, when sale will commence. The managers realize it is impossible to close out such a tremendous lot of goods in so short a time unless they give extraordi-nary inducements. Consequently, every-thing will be offered at retail 45 per cent less than actual manufacturer's cost, as the entire stock must be closed out in six days at 1118 Farnam street, Omaha. Now read, and remember that this is no humbug, and the only reason the goods are offered at such a great slaughter in prices is because the money must be realized in six days.

Men's fine beaver overcoats, $2.95, warranted worth $12, or money refunded. This overcoat is made of heavy beaver cloth, well lined and trimmed and latest style. If you or anyone else do not consider this a big bargain, return it and get your money back. Also a large line of medium and heavy-weight overcoats, ex tra fine quality, silk or satin lined, and 1,600 different other styles of overcoats equally cheap. A good suit of men's win-ter clothes, $3.65. This suit is made of heavy dark cloth, coat, pants and vest all to match, cut in the latest fashion, is extra handsome, and guaranteed worth $13 or money returned. Also fine all-wool eassimere and corkscrew suits, silk and satin lined, and over 1,000 kinds of suits we cannot mention here. Men's extra fine hats, 99 cents, latest style and positively worth $3, or money returned. Men's woolen jackets, 65 cents, worth $2.25. Extra fine undershirts, 48 cents, guaranteed worth $2, or money returned, and 5,000 different other goods at equally low prices. Call and examine the goods and you will see for yourself that everything is sold at great sacrifice, exactly as represented. Remember, this great bankrupt sale commences Friday, November 5, at 2 o'clock, at 1118 Farnam street, Omaha. No goods sold until Friday, November 5, at 2 o'clock.

Police Points. Judge Stenberg had an even score of drunks before him yesterday morning. Ten of them were discharged and five paid fines of $10 and costs the others being committed to jail. Among the other prisoners were three boys who had been guilty of Hallow'een pranks. Two of them had confined themselves to the comparatively harmless amusement of pulling down signs, running off with gates, etc. Chas. Billips, however, was somewhat bolder than his brethren in mischief and had run away with a man's horse and buggy. He succeeded in smashing the buggy pretty badly and was arrested by the police. This morning the complainant did not appear against him and his case was con-tinued. He will probably be released. Several suspicious characters were discharged. Among the number was a gentleman of irreproachable character who is a brother-in-law to a prominent manufacturer of this city. Of course, when he stated his case he was reteased. The Omaha & Northern. "The Omaha & Northern scheme is not dead," said Freight Commissioner Griffiths to a reporter yesterday. "That road will be built and before very long, too. The fact is we had to let the scheme rest for a while on account of the political excite-ment. Everybody is interested in the election. Just as soon as that is disposed thimbles, etc., the grand prize consisting of a plated water pitcher, Waterbury of, we will take up the railroad scheme watch or a two-dollar clock. While mak and push it through."
